6 Effects of Clinical Polation

1. To improve immediate efficacy, maintain skin beauty and hair growth by increasing the penetration ratio into the skin 30~50 times more than the usual application of the product.
2. To revitalize elasticity of calloused skin by massage at a cellular level in order to remove smile lines, under-eye bags and wrinkles between the eyebrows, etc.
3. To break down and discharge the excess fat and waste accumulated inside the skin resulting in a slimming of the face, upper arms, stomach and hips, while preventing a weight rebound by increasing elastic muscles.
4. To remove flabbiness around chin, eyelids, cheeks etc. by toning facial muscles, thereby tightening the entire facial skin.
5. To facilitate the dissolution and elimination of fatigue by improving the stream of blood and lymph fluid, thereby to ease stiff shoulders, fatigue and swelling, etc.
6. To tone the entire facial skin by revitalizing the elasticity of the scalp, while increasing the supply of nutrition and oxygen to hair roots by improving the blood stream within the scalp in order to resolve hair loss, graying and thinning. In addition, to improve autonomic nerve balance by stimulating acupressure points and resolve fatigue, stiffness and eye strain.

- ☑ Develop Japanese style beauty salons in our country

Trial production

Packing operation

Based on our successful cases in various channels such as Esthetic salon, Clinic, Department stores and Mail-order business, we provide the best products matched to your needs and requirements. The quality of Japanese products is not always high and they are not always sellable either.

As a matter of fact, the sales results & product education in Japan and the follow-up measures are crucial to be successful. As our policy, we conduct substantial meetings with the client until both fully agreed in order to build a good business relationship and further develop its business for mutual profit.
